EnCamera FAC

ENCAMERA FAC is a collaborative file management solution that enables users to share, index and navigate massive document collections, sort them based on themes or categories, and retrieve specific documents.

EnCamera FAC is a high performance, intelligent file management solution that enables project team members to share, manipulate, index, search, sort and synchronize personal and group document collections. EnCamera FAC gives users the ability to navigate massive document collections and to classify items based on themes or categories.

EnCamera FAC makes working with large document collections manageable for individuals or teams. It allows users to maintain personal and project document collections and to search and sort documents based on words, phrases, dates, categories or topics. Specific documents or items related to a given theme can be identified and retrieved quickly and easily.

EnCamera FAC goes well beyond standard document-sharing functionality and facilitates navigation and manipulation of extremely large or disparate document collections. Even documents that have been uploaded for different purposes at different times or by different people can be searched, indexed and categorized according to verbiage, subject or relevance to a task or investigation.

EnCamera FAC's enhanced features:

- Automatically organizes and clusters documents by subject or theme;

- Supports full text searches and document versioning;

- All text-based documents uploaded into the application are fully and easily searchable; and

- Users can examine document clusters based on search indexes and view statistics collected by textual affect sensing algorithms.

EnCamera FAC is a robust platform that facilitates project oversight and improves teams' ability to deal with complex tasks involving large cumbersome files. EnCamera FAC's high performance intelligent sorting and clustering functionality enables users to work with text documents, drawings, multimedia, geographic software and spreadsheets, and to transfer or post files and documents in a seamless, secure manner. By enhancing operational efficiency through easier, faster, more manageable document handling, EnCamera FAC improves efficiency and reduces costs for the organization and enables project teams to achieve their objectives.